

I am writing in opposition to changing FM broadcasting. While I do listen to a couple of low power stations I do not agree with the idea of letting them take priority over current FM translator service. I fear that many not for profit broadcasters would be adversely affected. In particular, my area is served by Air 1 which broadcasts Christian music targeting the teenage/ young adult audience. I am concerned that under the proposed changes Air 1 could be knocked out of this market. We have a low power station targeting the same audience but by nature it covers a fairly small area. With all the trash that is on the air now I feel that kids especially need to have ready access to "clean air" stations. I'm sure many secular stations would be adversely affected too. Please do not change the rules governing FM broadcasting.
